In the realm of community service, my involvement extended beyond traditional roles as I took on responsibilities within the HR office and served as the media officer for the team. In my role within HR, I played a pivotal part in fostering an inclusive and supportive environment within our community service initiatives. Additionally, as the media officer, I utilized communication and marketing skills to promote our projects, engage with stakeholders, and amplify the impact of our efforts through various channels. Through these roles, I actively contributed to the organization and coordination of community service activities while also ensuring effective communication and outreach to maximize our impact within the community.
